Dear Rug Hooking Friends,

With the arrival of Fall we return to hooking classes, plan our winter projects and look forward to rug schools.

Attached is the registration for Sebago Lake Rug School. Classes are filled on a first come first serve basis. There will be a waiting list after the classes are filled. For those of you who don't wish to stay in the dorms there are hotels in Windam, Portland and the surrounding areas. As a commuter lunch is included and breakfast/dinner can be purchased directly from the college.

This year there will be another special demo class (to be announced). If you have a specialty you wish to share please send me a brief description. It can be finishing, dyeing, framing or a whole host of topics. We are always looking for new ideas and techniques to apply to our rug hooking.

We are planning a flea market and everyone is invited to participate. If you have books, cutters or make something you'd like to sell please join us for a fun afternoon. You must provide your own table and out of respect for the teachers no wool please.

I look forward to hearing from you. Have a happy, healthy year.

Sebago Lake Rug School

SEBAGO LAKE RUG SCHOOL 2017

- Loretta Scena: This class will focus on color, whimsy and embellishing. Choose one of Loretta's patterns, have her draw one for you or you bring one of your own. All types of hooking and all skill levels are welcome. In this class you will learn, laugh and make something beautiful.
- Betty McClentic: Betty is no stranger to Rug Hooking. With 45 years of experience she is well versed in all subject matter. She gives great care and personal attention to make sure each students piece is something special.
- Kathy Spellacy: Kathy's favorites are primitives. She encourages students to mix strip sizes as well as use textures and overdyed wools to achieve interest in their hooked pieces. As owner of Patsy Becker Designs she has lots of patterns to choose from or can design one to fit your needs.
- Sarah Guiliani: This will be an open class from a 2 cut to hand torn. The main objective of this class is to unleash creativity. Sarah enjoys a variety of styles, however her speciality is animals and portraits. You can find some of her designs on Facebook. Elements of design, perspective and current hooking topics Will be subjects open for class discussion.
- Diane Stoffel: Diane teaches all over the country and back. She has an eye for detail and color that adds an unusual touch to your piece. She teaches all widths from fine to wide cut. All designs are welcome.
