

June 2018 Newsletter

Greetings!

Saturday, June 16th, was a “made to order day” for Mayflower’s Strawberry Festival, the last meeting of the 2017/2018 year. Many hands helped to make it a memorable day for all participants. Thanks and kudos to all who attended, helped with strawberries and other food items and those who helped in the kitchen.

A special thanks to Ildi for graciously opening her home, providing many breakfast items, salad, grilled chicken and all of the fresh baked items she prepared. On top of all this, Ildi also created the beautiful flier to honor our special guest, Jeanne Fallier.

Jeanne was honored and recognized for her many contributions to Mayflower, rug hooking, and the artistry of her many patterns. Her work is prolific and incredible, and we thank her for her dedication in promoting the craft of rug hooking.

To help commemorate her achievements, Jeanne was given the flier of her time line history, including pictures of some of her rugs and an introductory comment by one of her contemporaries.

Pat Ives and Cynthia Dabroski brought their completed rugs utilizing Jeanne’s patterns.

Jeanne is planning to meet with a potential buyer of her portfolio, and hopefully her many patterns will be preserved and become a part of her legacy.

A cake was presented to her and of course lots of good food and strawberries!

Special thanks to Dot Woodle in assisting Jeanne with sorting and organizing her many paper patterns, always providing a ride to Jeanne, and just generally being an exceptional friend.

It was a great day, with an abundance of wonderful food, a beautiful home reflecting Ildi's multiple talents, as well as the chance to honor our first Mayflower President. And, of course, sharing the day with exceptional, talented "hookers"!
